Heartland: The best of DeMolay

The 2008 Heartland Tournament of Champions promises to be the ultimate Ritual Tournament. Building upon the success of the 2007 competition that had seven jurisdictions represented, planning has already begun to make next year's Tournament a weekend of brotherhood and a spectacular event.

We will be having the Tournament in Indianapolis April 11-13, 2008.

Each jurisdiction is encouraged to send your best members, teams, and Chapters to compete with the best from across the country.

The competitions will be same that we have had for a number of years, but we are also looking at adding some new competitions and categories to allow for more DeMolays to compete. Composite teams competitions are also being discussed. Once again, Junior and Senior Division will be available for the individual Preceptors.

X-Box 360 & Wii

Video Game Tournaments

While the competitions will be a focal point of the day on Saturday, we want the rest of the weekend to be about brotherhood and fun. That's why we are working on various activities for Saturday evening for our members, advisors and parents to be involved in. We will have a massive video game and LAN party setup for everyone's enjoyment.

A Halo 3 Tournament will be held at the hotel along with other video games being available.

Some other activities that are being discussed are:

- tickets to an Indiana Pacer's NBA game
- tickets to see the Indianapolis Indians (AAA baseball)
- trip to the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and Museum
- Bowling trip

One of the benefits to having the Tournament in Indianapolis is the ability to be in a major city but without having to worry about traffic congestion and spending hours stuck in traffic wasting gas. Within 20 minutes of the hotel will be hundreds of restaurants to choose from along with plenty of activities for leisure time.
